"We have had a very satisfactory six months" trade, and an increase in volume of fully 25 per cent over the corresponding period of last year. Our July trade shows no falling off.

When the fall boom comes to which all signs now point, it will take hustling to meet demands. I feel confident we will soon again be compelled to increase our force, as we had to do a few months ago."

Sweitzer Cheese.

The prospects for an extraordinary output of domestic Sweitzer choese was never better than it is now. Eastern Ohlo and Wisconsin are the great centers of this industry. Starke and Columbiana counties, O., and Duane county, Wis., have the lead in America for producing Sweitzer cheese. One of our leading jobbers in this line said recently: "There is no doubt that the volume of production this year will beat all former records. Pasturage in the Sweitzer cheese regions was never better. This time last year prices were 2 to be per pound in the cheese making districts under 81 00 per 100 pounds, and when cheese goes to loc there is a dead loss to the manufacturer. The pric

Boston Wool Market.

Boston—There is a steady demand for domestic wool and manufacturers are buying to some extent for immediate wants. The market remains very first, with prices unchanced. Fine washed flevces are not moving to any extent. There have been sales of small lots of Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces at 34c for X. 55, for XX and 38c for No. 1. Michigan X fleeces are held at 33c, wish some dealers offerings to sell at 23c. Combing and delaine fleeces are selling at 80c for No. 1 combing, 350 30c for Michigan delaine, and 36637c for Ohio delaine. Territory wool have been selling at 63c636c for fine, scoured, and 55257c for medium. Texas and California wools are in demand at previous prices. In pulled wools there have been sales of super at 35633c, and extra at 25632c. Foreign wools remain very quiet and prices firm.

will be an average crop, barley a two-thirds crop and oats a poor crop. The situation is not sill that could be desired, but there seems to be no good ground for the despairing reports that have been circulated. Reports from points in Ontario are generally sati-factory. Fall wheat will be a good average crop, except in low lands where serious injury was done by the June rains. Barley promises a good yield and oats a fair crop. The root crop seems to promise well in Eastern Ontario, but for roots in some districts rain is wanted. The corn crop seems to be a failure while the hay crop is heavy and well saved. Metni Market. MARKETS BY WIRE.

Wheat More Active and Higher All Along the Line-Henry Buying on Foreign Account-Rumors of a Large Sale of Flour for Export. cf Flour for Export.

CHICAGO—Increased activity and a large increase in the volume of speculative business was witnessed in wheat to-day; prices were higher all around. A nervous and unsettled feeling again prevailed, however, and fluctuations were frequent within a range of 11/4c. A feature of the trade was excellent buying for foreign account, both here and in New York. That foreign shorts were covering freely hare. That foreign shorts were covering freely here was regarded as certain, and there was another 35,000 bushel lot of cash old spring wheat taken for Glasgow account. Enough, at least, is being done in an export way at present to greatly encourage holders.

A strong factor in the market was the smaller estimated receipts for to-morrow. Temporary strength was also given to the market by a wild rumor of a very large sale of flour for export at St. Louis-afterward contradicted. Conservative houses here are advising their customers that the market is likely to remain narrow unthat the market is likely to remain narrow until the spring wheat harvest progresses far enough to warrant a reliable estimate of the probable yield. Crop reports from the Northwest indicate a fair improvement in the Shnation there during the last two weeks.

A fair degree of speculative activity was manifested in corn, and higher prices were established. Trading, however, was rather spamodic. finctuations covering 1,62% range. The better tone was attributed mainly to the active cash demand, better cables and firm feeling in wheat. The demand was confined mainly to shorts, though some buying for investment was reported. Transactions were confined almost entirely to the near futures, July, August and September. The market opened at about the closing prices of yesterday, was firm and gradually advanced 1,2% cased off 14c, fluctuated frequently, and final quotations were 262% higher than yesterday. In oats a firmer feeling was developed, and prices averaged slightly higher, but price changes were confined within natrow limits.

Only a fair trade was reported in the market for mess pork, and the feeling was easy. A few trades were made early at 2% advance, but a weaker feeling was soon developed, and prices receded 12671%. Toward the close the market was quiet but a trifle steadier, and prices improved 25,65c.

The lard market attracted very little attention. Early sales were made at recterday's closing figures, but a reduction of 2,650 was submitted to later, and the market for short.

Trading was moderate in the market for short rib sides. At the opening sales of limited quantities were made at yesterday's closing figures, but a weaker feeling was gradoully developed, and a reduction of 567% was submitted to. The market closed quiet at inside

The New York Stock Exchange has an "un listed" department, where corporations trusts and possibly other concerns whose legal status is not well defined, can have their certificates dealt in without making any statement as to their finances or operations. To the public it simply appears that these various certificates are dealt in at the New York Stock Exchange and under its sanction and authority, and the mere title of "unlisted" does not move the re-sponsibility in popular estimation any more than a sub-clause in fine type removes the than a sub-clause in fine type removes the responsibility of an express company or a life insurance company. The title of the associa-tion, as adopted, is the Actuarial Society of America, and its objects are those of promot-ing this special department of science, by per-sonal intercourse and otherwise, through the society follows up its purpose—and there ap-pears no reason why it may not—the fraternity will certainly be benefited by the organization and the cause of sound life insurance greatly

A number of orders for stocks were filled yesterday, and the result was a strong and active market for several of the favorites—La Noria and Philadelphia Gas especially. Even the tractions were a trifle stronger. The only thing that displayed particular weakness was Switch and Signal.

It opened strong with the sale of a round bundle at 1%. In the afternoon the bulls got down to work, and gave it the biggest boost it down to work, and gave it the biggest boost it has had for a long time. Everybody seemed hungry for it, and kept running up the price until 2½ was reached. It closed steady at that figure. "It will be $ to-morrow," said a prominent broker. Over 900 shares were required to supply the demand. It was repeated that the forthcoming report would be highly favorable, and to this the boom is to be attributed.

After La Noria, Philadelphia Gas was the most active stock. It opened at 35% and closed strong at 35% on sales of 450 shares. More of it could have been sold at the same figure, but holders thought they would get more by waiting. After call 57 was asked. Sproul & Lawrence have been the principal buyers for several days, but the ground for their action is carefully concealed. It can be said that the new trust movement grows in disfavor the more it is talked about.

There was a good demand for bank and insurance stocks, but bids and offers were too far apart to accomplish anything. The features of the day's operations are given below.

Lively Bidding on the Newell Estate. but Not Up to the Mark.

THE WILKINSBURG WATER WORKS. Beaver Falls Glass Company About Ready

W. A. Herron & Sons offered the Newell estate property, corner of Forbes street and Shady lane, at Orphans' Court sale vesterday. There was quite an active bidding, which run the property up to $31,500, but the administrator withdrew it on that bld, and postponed the sale for one week.

All the right of way for the pipe line of the Pennsylvania Water Company, more familiarly known as the Wilkinsburg Water Company, has been secured from the pumping station at Wildwood, on the Allegheny river, to North Braddock, a distance of about six miles. From information derived from members of the company yesterday it can be stated with a reasonable degree of certainty that the entire district through which the line passes will have a full sup-ply of water by September 1. Work on the eservoir, pumping station and on the portion of the line not yet completed, is being pushed

I was informed yesterday that the Beaver Falls Glass Company is about to commence operations after a long spell of idleness, during which extensive repairs were made and an addition built to the plant. Before this improvement the estimated value of the works was abound in Pittsburg, where brussels carpets and pianos are too common to attract atten-tion, and where, which is far better, a large proportion of the workingmen own the houses they live in.

A stock broker remarked yesterday: "The real estate people are encroaching upon our domain. A number of our former customers have dropped stocks like hot potatoes and are putting their money in realty and mortgages. The only objection I have to this is that it is, to some extent, hurting our business, for all must admit that real estate is a safe and profitable investment. However, I look for stocks to brace up before long, and then we may be able to hold our own against the real estate deal

If men will speculate they should do so understandingly. There are two ways of mak-ing money on Wall street—a rule for the investor and a rule for the operator-which, if followed, will almost certainly lead to success The first rule is to buy only the securities of corporations with which the investor is entirely familiar. The second rule is to buy in seasons of great depression, paying outright for what you buy, not purchasing on a margin, and sell-ing with the rise which must mevitably come. either be connected with its management or other be connected with its management or operations, or make it a subject of special and diligent study and investigation. The most successful men on Wall street—investors, not speculators, all the men who have made great fortunes—have followed one or the other of these two rules. Any man who goes into Wall street to speculate blindly, without a knowl-edge of the property which he buys, and without reference to the condition of the money market, of trade generally, of our exports and causes a Little Boom in Wall Street-Hocking Valley and the Sugar Trust Recover Some of Their Lauses -Other Strong Fratures.

New York, July 22.—The stock market to-day during the first and last hours displayed more animation with a more decided tone than of more favorable news and good buying for both sides of the account material advances were scored in all portions of the list. The foreigners were again buyers in this market, and the amount of their purchases is stated at 40,-000 shares, while the covering of shorts was on a liberal scale.

The bears for the time being were doing little and the absence of the usual offerings of stock set some of the smaller traders and bears to covering their shorts, which had the effect of opening the market up from ½ to ½ per cent, while in the early dealings considerable of a spurt was made, almost everything moving up fractionally further. Atchison was the only marked exception, and it retired ½ for cent. The movement was explained by the fact that some of the shorts wished to get back their lines of the stock at lower figures, and rumors that the company would be compelled to pay about $30,000 for damages in Unicago helped along the effort to get it down. The stocks of the Cleveland, Columbus, Clucianati and St. Louis early became the strong feature, and the common e-pecially moved up over 2 per cent.

In the general list, however, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific preferred, and the Chesapeake and Ohio stocks were allfremarkably strong and the latter later in the day became a feature. The report was that Drexel, Morgan & Co, had bought from Mr. Huntington 100,000 shares of the stock, and the inference was that it was for the Vanderbilts, who would their have control of another through line from the Atlantic seaboard to the west. After the first demand was satisfied the market became intensely dull and prices, as usual, sagged off slowly and many stocks retired to the neighborhood of the morning figures, usual, sagged off slowly and many stocks retired to the neighborhood of the morning figures.

The buying began again toward delivery

The buying began again toward delivery hour and a sharp upward movement was made, which again reached all portions of the list and Burlington crossed par and special movements were made in many stocks. The most marked were in Sugar Trust and Hocking Valley, the latter being due to the circulation of a report that a committee was to be formed to keep the road out of the receivers' hands.

The market finally closed with a fairly active business and strong and the best prices of the day. The entire list is higher. Cloveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and St. Louis rose 25 Sugar 25, Hocking Valley 34, Rock Island 15%. Chesapeake and Ohio first preferred 2 Northern Pacific preferred 18, Union Pacific 14, New England, Northern Pacific and Reading 15 each, Chesapeake and Ohio, Burlington and Quincy, Louisville and Nashville, Lake Shore, Missouri Pacific and Wheeling and Lake Erre 1 per cent each, and others fractional amounts. Railway bonds were firmer in sympathy with shares, but the market was dull, the sales only reaching 983,000, Reading contributing 140,000. The feature of the day was the Hocking Valley, which rose 25%.

—S. S. Cartwright died in Topeka, Kan., Monday, aged 60 years. He was a widower, and had lived for years in a garret. He was supposed to be in limited direcumstances, but events reveal that he was worth probably $250,000. His property consisted of houses and lands in Topeka, ranches in the counties adjoining and city and suburban property in Albany, N. Y., where his children reside. An Albany dispatch says: The Associated press dispatch, this morning, telling of the death of S. B. Cartwright with $250,000 in a garret, at Topeka, Kan., was fead with interest here. Cartwright was a farmer at Rennselaerville, in Albany county, and 12 years ago went West and made money rapidly. As he was not of a penurious nature, his dying in a garret is not understood. His son left for Topeka this morning.

The Shoe Upper Industry on the OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, 1 TUESDAY, July 28, 1888. J. D. per cent over the corresponding period of last year. Our July trade shows no falling off. Orders are coming in freely from the South and West, more than sufficient to make up for the decline in local demand which always comes at this season of the year.

"From the East heavy orders are coming for brick shippers, which in the past year or two have become a prominent feature of our industry." In an swer to the query: "What proportion of our shoemakers show use the manufactured uppers?" the answer given was: "Fully 39 per cent." It is within the memory of those by no means old when the shoe upper industry was unknown. A decade ago the majority of boot and shoemakers here fitted out boots and shoes consider. Now they would be left in the rear if they attempted to do this. The shoe upper manufacturer, by improved macuinery and systematized labor, is enabled to work up the entire calf or kid skin so that nothing is lest. No one man can compete with this industry by doing the entire work, as was done in the good old days of sore.

doing the entire work, as was done in the good old days of yore.

The gentleman from whom these facts were gathered said: "I do not believe there has been a time in the entire history of the show upper industry when the outlook was better. All signs point to a very lively fall trade. Our customers have been of late only ordering for immediate wants. Local trade has been rather slack for a few weeks. Shoe manufacturers in our batiliwick are unusually bare of goods. When the fall boom comes, to which all signs now point, it will take bustling to meet demands. I feel confident we will soon again be connecled to increase our force, as we had to

The most effective argument for protection The most elective argument for protection is to point out the condition of the working-messand women in the most prosperous industrial settlements of the country. On June 28, Labor Commissioner Hotchkas, of Connecticut, invited the Commissioners of Labor Statistics to an inspection of three of the largest that most prosperous silk and sil and most prosperous siik and cotton mills in New England. They found that they were finely lighted and ventilated, with beautifu grounds, on which were scattered the neat cot-tages of the operatives, decorated with flowers and hidden by vines. They saw mills filled with busy workers, surrounded by beautiful with busy workers, surrounded by beautiful growing plants. They saw smiling faces and ruddy cheeks, bright eyes and cheerful countenances everywhere. They saw workmen's cottages adorned with brussels carpets in the parlors, handsome shades and flowers in the windows, sewing machines, organs, and even pianos. These substantial evidences of thrift among the toilers under the present tariff sys-tem are not confined to New England. They imports, of gold shipments and all the factors that enter into the calculations of shrewd financiers, must inevitably be a loser. The condition of real estate is good for the season, and there is every indication of a rather more than usually active fall trade. The in-

Several of the leading bankers reported a fair run of business yesterday, but new developments were scarce. All of them complained of the scarcity of new paper, but said that considerable of the old was being renewed. The flow of money continues in the direction of the banks, but the supply is not excessive for the season of the year, when there is always a luli in business. Bankers expect to derive some advantage from the revival of the interest in oil.

This, together with the promise of an unusual expansion of business in the autumn, it is believed, will soon reduce the surplus to the reserve point. There are no apprehensions of a stringency, however. The Clearing House report was favorable, the exchanges being $1,922, 288 88, and the balances $383, 285 08.

SPICES (whole)—Cloves, 21625c; allspice, 8c:

—Edison, the inventor, is contesting at Ottawa the decision of the chief clerk of the Canadian Patent Office cancelling the Edison patent for incandescent electric lighting on the ground of want of jurisdiction. Hon, John Carling Minister of Agricultare, to-day granted the application of Edison's solicitor for a rehearing, this time before himself. It was agreed that the same argument should stand, but the advisability of hearing new evidence is now under consideration.
